SEE MURDER ATTEMPT IN ATTACK

Fliers In Islands, Miss Goal By 50 Miles

Honolulu July 16—Alive and happy Fenie Smith and Emory Bronte rested today after a 24 hour struggle with wind and fog on a non stop flight from California The civilian fliers missed Honolulu their destination by only 50 miles Exhaustion of gas supply sent their "City of Oakland" crashing into a kiawe tree on the lee or island of Molokai

Although their plane was wrecked Smith and Bronte were only shaken up Smith received a slight cut on the forehead Several hours later army planes from Wheeler Field brought them to Schofield Barracks just outside Honolulu There a great crowd excited by the second non stop jump from the mainland to the islands nearly mobbed the weary fliers

Steamers To Rescue

While the non stop three steamers far at sea swung back into course odor boys of the schooner The says the Isaac B Hellenus and Kaluwaia and Lurline army transports Kenowa turned under forced draft yesterday morning to a point 300 miles off the Island of Maui where Bronte had sent an SOS

Landing in sea took help was the call of distress which the three boys answered The SOS was sent when Smith and Bronte decided the faulty gas pump feared a dive into the sea

After the distress signals had been sent Lorrier Smith he pounding the motor with his hand discovered the cause of his gasp A gear was off the shaft and he nearly five hours the world believed the fliers adrift at sea on a rubber raft The Lieut Wilhelmina actually reached the position given by Navigator Bronte in his last SOS

There the most of doors on the credit Smith said warmly to think to Bronte If we had kept on his course we would have reached Wheeler Field in 23 hours

Fog All Was Across

In their concern over delay of gasoline the fliers feared they might miss the Hawaiian group all together Smith explained Believing they were west of the islands they veered south and landed on Molokai 40 miles south of Honolulu

CITY WITHOUT FUNDS TO PAY JAIL ACCOUNT

No Provision Made To Finance Prisoners' Board Ordered by State Examiners

That there will be little if any controversy on the part of the city in the payment of the $1,227 which according to the state examiner is due the county for the board of city prisoners at the county jail was indicated by city officials today

The outstanding phase of the question, according to officials is not so much a question of whether the city owes the money or not as it is question of where the money is coming from to pay the bill

No board for city prisoners has been paid by the city in the past and no provisions for their board was made in making up the budget for the year City officials are of the opinion that the debt is a just one taking the stand that there is no reason why the county should pay the board of prisoners sent to jail under a city ordinance

A great many prisoners were sent to jail during the administration of Mayor Buckley The fine of $50 usually passed on those arrested for intoxication by the former mayor made it necessary to send a large number to jail which they could not pay the fine

It is expected some action will be taken by City Council at its meeting a week from Monday night

MARION GIRL HIT OVER HEAD WHILE ASLEEP

Miss Josephine Smith, Cowansapta, Victim of Mysterious Assault in Room

SCOUT ROBBERY MOTIVE

Awakened by Severe Pain; Sees Man Jump Through Livingroom Window

What is believed by police and members of the family to have been an attempt at murder took place in the home of Josephine Smith in the Cowansapta W Church and Pearl sts early this morning when Miss Smith while asleep in bed was struck on the head with a blunt instrument inflicting a deep gash

The theory of murder is given strength by the fact that no attempt was made by the intruder to remove two diamonds from her fingers or to take other articles of value in the apartment

Finds Cleaver Stump

It is the belief of Miss Smith that the man entered her apartment while she was in the kitchen and concealed himself in a closet until after she had gone to bed A cigaret stump found in the bathroom and the fact that she was careful to lock all of the doors and windows before going to bed substantiates this belief In addition to the lock, the door leading into her apartment from the hall was bolted

Complete mystery surrounds the motive of murder however Miss Smith stated this morning that she knew of no one who would have designs on her life A week ago Miss Smith returned to her apartments after an absence of a day to find that someone had entered her apartments during her absence and removed all of the curtains from the window screens No attempt was made at that time to steal anything from the apartment she said.

Read Until 1 O'clock

In her story of the attack made on her early this morning, Miss Smith who conducts an insurance business, said she had cleaned house after returning home last night and it was nearly 12 30 before she finished. She went into the kitchen for a few minutes she said, before going to bed. After getting in bed she read until 1 o'clock and then went to sleep

Some time later, she told police, she was awakened by a pain on the side of her head She put her hand to her head and found the wound with blood streaming down over her face Thinking she had been shot from the window, she leaped from the bed and staggered into the hall, screaming for help

The only clew to the identity of the slugger was given by Miss Smith who said as she staggered into the hall she saw a man walk leisurely from the hall into the living room of her apartment where he made his escape by leaping from a window

Other residents of the apartments alarmed by her cries came running into the hall but not in time to catch a view of the man They called a physician and also notified the police

STEAM SHOVEL AND EAGLES TAKE GAMES

Contests Featured by Lopsided Scores, Winners Get 60 Runs

In games featured by lops... ed scores Marion Steam Shovel Office and Eagles teams strengthened their grips on the first positions while Kiwanis and Isaly Dairies moved upward a peg in the standings of the Commercial League last night

The winners' scores last night totaled 60 runs and the four teams on the losing end of the score amassed but 14 tallies

The league leading Steam Shovel aggregation brought its win to eight when it triumphed over the Postoffice nine 14 to 6 The Eagles holders of the second position spread the old time whitewash thick and heavy over the Knights of Pythias in an interesting affair which ended 22 to 0

Kiwanis In Third

Kiwanians pulled themselves into undisputed third place when they outpointed the Kappa Alpha Phi team in another one-sided melee 11 to 5 As a result of the Kappa's defeat and the walloping handed the Stars by the Isaly Dairies form 11 to 4 at the Fair field diamonds the two teams are now tied for fourth place after being in a triple tie with Kiwanis for third last week

Isaly is now holding tightly onto fifth position with the Knights of Pythias nine With one victory and nine defeats the Marion Postoffice team is being forced to remain in the cellar for the remainder of the season

The brave Knights of Pythias never had a chance against the strong Eagle diamond players when they took the big goose egg while their opponents were running up a total of 22 tallies

Although several hits were gathered by the Knights nine, only one player was able to get to the third sack during the entire game In the meantime the F O E s were banging the pill almost at will, pounding out 20 hits The runs which sold at a dime a dozen during the fracas started to pile up in the very first frame of the game when four men crossed the home platter The scoring act was duplicated in the fourth with three tallies and in the sixth and seventh when 15 more were added

Rife Does Good

The league leaders had no trouble in surfeiting over the postoffice team Rife, centerfielder of the manufacturing combination squad did the best work at bat securing three hits and as many runs With the exception of two of the players every man succeeded in hitting safely twice during the game. Post office sluggers managed to break forth three times Lingo toured for the government team

The Marion Stars were the victims of a stinging and unavoidable defeat at the hands of Zuspan when he pitched the Isaly Dairies to victory The Stars batting machine failed to percolate until the final period when the four scores were marked up

Isaly's played "heads up" baseball from the first of the opening to the last of the seventh and at many times the Stars were caught napping during the play All of the winners scores were annexed in the first and the fourth Kerr and Gibson did the mound work for the newspaper

In winning over the strong Kappa outfit the Kiwanis played in old time form gaining 12 hits and at the same time holding the losing team to five Lawson right fielder of the winning nine hits safely four times in four trips to the plate Patton of Kiwanis and Schoenberger of the fraternity team were accredited with two hits each Hiss pitcher fanned six batters and passed but one

"Sharkey May Be Soft, But He Doesn't Seem That Way To Me," Says Jack Dempsey

Ex-Champ Is Never Going To Be Caught Underestimating Again, So He Declares; Three More Days of Training Left

BY GEORGE BARRY

Saratoga N Y July 16— With only about three more days of training left for the Jack Sharkey mighty heavyweight battle which will be staged here next Thursday night Jack Dempsey today answering Jack Dempsey the former hollow shell who doesn't seem to be as hollow as he was supposed to be

Jack is rounding into shape in a wonderful way added Leo Flynn who has been working with the effort for more than a week He has more durability than an ox and he has the same old power in his punches He may be a bit slower—but the fellow is not sluggish His marksmanship is not all that I expect when he climbs into the ring but these last few days of training will be used to tune up his sharpshooting

When Flynn ordered a day of rest for Dempsey—the third spell in the last week

While I took charge of Jack's affairs I decided that one thing I'd do would be to save him from leaving his fight in the gymnasium said Flynn And I'm telling this to some folks may be wondering who I'm having in to box Dempsey Then I'll find the answer on the night of the fight when I'll send a man into the ring fit and ready to muscle in a 20 round battle if necessary

The folks associated with the Dempsey camp read the daily reports from the Sharkey camp with a grain of salt Sharkey—and generally read them with dubious eye the reports—by persons and via the newspapers—that he is little three years are not entirely flattering to Sharkey

They picture Boston Jack as a strong man with a defense as wide open as the Grand Canyon and a hitter who does this wrong and that wrong and who takes on the general appearance of a plugged two bit piker

If all that is true or—if only half of it is true—then my around here this went be a fight for Dempsey It'll just be a bit of ruth exercise for half a round or so—then the time up for the Tunney fight

But Dempsey a eager old veteran who never held any man cheap until he met Tunney—and then only in the fatal minutes of that fight says I decided

This Sharkey guy may seem soft but he doesn't seem that way to me and he won't seem that way until I have him stretched on the floor he said I am going into that fight figuring this is the toughest kid I ever fought and I am going to keep on thinking that way until something happens to change my ideas I'll never be caught under estimating anybody again"

BOBBY JONES PREPARES FOR MORE GOLF ABROAD

Scots Believe Super-Skill Rather Than Luck Was Factor in Win

St Andrews Scotland, July 16—Bobby Jones the most famed golfer of all time awoke today after a good night of rest and prepared for more golf

The task of playing 72 holes in 286 to win the British Open Championship and break all records apparently has not tired Jones He is planning to visit several of the other Scottish courses for a few rounds before he leaves for London and the United States

Experts here who have been analyzing the four record breaking rounds made by the champion opine that super-skill rather than any element of luck won for Jones They point out that after his marvelous first round of 68 Jones did not push his game but played for pars on every hole and generally secured them Only when some misfortune took him over par did he seem to go after birdies

MARKET IS IRREGULAR FROM PROFIT-TAKING

Erie, Southern Railway, General Electric and Other Securities Gain

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks steady; industrial stocks steady; domestic bonds firm; industrial bonds reactionary; grain easy; copper steady; oil steady; cotton strong; rubber steady; sugar steady; pig iron steady; foreign exchange steady.

New York, July 16—Profit taking in stocks that had been advancing all week gave an irregular appearance to the market today. Although Erie, Southern Railway, General Electric and other securities continued on the upward trend, other stocks such as Baldwin Locomotive, United States Steel and General Motors eased off on substantial selling.

Buying of rails was fairly aggressive. Erie advanced 1 1-4 to 60, Chesapeake & Ohio made a gain of a point to 154 1-4, Great Northern Preferred went up 1-2 to 93, Southern Railway advanced 1 1-8 and Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific moved up 3-4 at 115 1-4. Union Pacific declined 1-2 to 177 1-2, Atchison eased off 3-4 to 156 1-4 and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul dropped 1-2 to 19.

Motors were generally easier. General Motors was down 3-8 at 205 1-8, Studebaker off 1-4 at 51 3-4, Packard off 1-8 at 36 1-8 and Nash Motor declined 1-2 to 70 1-4.

Baldwin Locomotive, which yesterday jumped to 240 1-8, a new high level for all time, dropped 1 point from its yesterday closing price to 240 1-2.

Oils were generally higher. Pure Oil was up 3-8 at 26, California Petroleum gained 1-4 to 23 5-8, Houston Oil advanced 3-4 to 167. Atlantic Refining was up 1 12 to 116 1-2 and Shelly Oil gained 1-2 to 26 1-2.

The industrials, however, were irregular. American Can advanced 3-8 to 57 7-8, Anaconda Copper declined 1-8 to 44 3-4, General Electric was up 7 to 118 7-8, American Smelting & Refining was off 1 to 109 1-2, Remington Typewriter gained 1-4 at 45 and U. S. Industrial Alcohol was down 1-8 at 84. Gabriel Snubbers was a strong spot in the market.

Trading was only moderate in today's short session. Week-end mercantile reviews were optimistic, describing trade conditions as showing fair vigor for the midsummer season.

First Signs of Compromise Seen in Geneva Naval Parley

BRITISH WILL SCALE DOWN ON CRUISER SIZE

Japanese Delegates Ask Time To Submit Proposals to Tokio

Geneva July 30—First signs of a compromise in the negotiations of the armament conference were seen today when it was learned that the British have indicated that they can be willing to scale down their demands for a cruiser tonnage of 500,000 tons to conditions.

The British indication of concession were made during conferences with the Japanese delegates. The Japanese have asked for time to submit the British proposals to Tokio.

Viscount Saito stated that he believes there may be possible grounds for a compromise in the British proposal.

Hugh Gibson, American delegate who had planned a long week end will remain in Geneva to aid the negotiations.

Announce Conditions

The conditions which the British attach to a reduction in the cruiser tonnage are:

1—The right of the powers to retain a large number of ships which have reached the age limit and which have been replaced.

2—[illegible]

The American and Japanese were not the British will make [illegible] the Americans [illegible] the age limit [illegible] ships useless while [illegible] Britain will reserve its fairly effective.

PROPOSAL RELIEVES SOME OF STRAIN

Washington, July 30—Scaling down of the British cruiser tonnage demands by as much as [illegible] tons, as reported from Geneva, would relieve some of the strain on the Geneva naval conference in the opinion of [illegible] in official circles here today.

It would indicate that Great Britain would accept a definite and additional global tonnage limitation on cruisers before any final progress toward an agreement can be looked for.

In other words the tonnage question must be decided before the American delegates will take up the problem of how many 10,000 ton cruisers will be acceptable to the United States. The navy continues to adhere to its original position of opposing division of the cruiser class into 8 inch categories, but once the final tonnage has been agreed upon the Americans may find a way toward an agreement on a reduced number of 10,000 ton cruisers.

Washington 'Hopeful'

If Geneva has suddenly become more optimistic over the prospects of the conference some of that optimism had found its way across the Atlantic to Washington today. The state department was represented as being 'hopeful' and not overly pessimistic' taking the attitude that the British can still be won over to the American viewpoint.

Secretary of State Kellogg was represented as holding that no new proposition from the British will be entertained unless it is made without conditions. He pointed out that several of the recent British suggestions have on the surface appeared to be complete acceptance of a 500 cruiser tonnage but closer examination of the conditions has invariably revealed that the proposals have been nothing but stripping scrows to the 450,000 or 400,000 tons that Britain first demanded.

Odd Fireproof Construction Methods Shown in Remodeling of Courthouse

AUCTION SALE OF LOTS PLAN AT ELM HEIGHTS

R T Lewis Co. To Dispose of Home Sites in Unusual Manner

An auction sale of lots a new feature in the development of a new addition will be staged by the R T Lewis Co in the promotion of the sale of lots in Elm Heights a subdivision the plot of which has been accepted by both the City Planning Commission and the City Council

The auction will be held the latter part of this month and will be put on by representatives of the Lawrence R Jones corporation of New York City which has conducted similar sales in several of the large cities of this state It is the belief of real estate men that the auction method of selling the lots is more successful for the reason that those who attend the sale are buyers who have a true knowledge of the real value of the property

Work of preparing the addition which lies along Mt Vernon just east of Vernon Heights Boulevard for the sale is now well underway Surveying have been had and more than 100 elm trees have been planted contrary to the usual custom of planting the trees between the sidewalk and the curb the trees were planted 10 feet from the lot line giving the impression of a wider street

A strip of land 10 feet wide on S Home ave which will be the main street of the sub division has been given the city by the R T Lewis Co for the purpose of making the street conform in width with that of the new section

It is the plan of the company to sell about 40 lots at first and from the lots to vary in width from 70 to 90 feet These facing Mt Vernon are laid out in such a manner that dwellings will conform to the street line on Vernon Heights Boulevard and will form a graceful curve leading onto the boulevard

Workmen Find Stone and Cinders Under Floor of Courthouse

Evidence of important changes that have been effected in building construction methods during the last 40 years are being revealed as remodeling work at the Marion County courthouse goes under way

The discoveries made by John Baldauf & Sons contracting firm in charge of courthouse alterations show that while the county building is exceptionally well built some methods used in the construction were vastly different from modern ideas

An especially striking example is the plan followed by the courthouse designers in their efforts to make the building fireproof

Make Discovery

When workmen dismantling the courtroom removed an elevated section of flooring at the rear of the room they found that the space underneath had been filled in with stone cinders and other material This had apparently been done to guard against spread of fire from the second floor to the third where the courtroom is located

Several wagon loads of the material were found beneath the flooring It is being removed from the building through an outside chute constructed from one of the north courtroom windows to the ground

J Lewis Hill architect in charge of the remodeling says that placing of this mass of material beneath the floor line was a detriment to the building rather than a safeguard

Modern Method

The modern method he said would be to lay the flooring on steel joists and wire mesh covered by cement about two inches thick This protective structure would have an average weight of about 40 pounds to the square foot Weight of the brick filler used by the courthouse builders averaged around 120 pounds to the foot

The new flooring will be level eliminating the elevation which existed in the original construction This is in the north half of the courtroom which is to be partitioned off and used for the county law library

GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK CARAVAN TO VISIT HERE

Will Be in City July 18 and 19 To Demonstrate Latest Achievements

To demonstrate the latest achievements in motor truck transportation a caravan of General Motors trucks is now making a state tour and will be in this city on July 18 and 19 Headquarters will be at the Harding Hotel The caravan is under the direction of W F Biber district representative for the General Motors Truck Co

The trucks are the new line of one and two ton speed models equipped with the latest six cylinder Buick engine according to C A Torgler factory representative of the General Motors Truck Co Toledo who was in the city today making preparation for the caravan showing in Marion We are making this tour with stripped chassis says Mr Torgler in order to let the public inspect fully the mechanism of these trucks

Explaining the purpose of the trip Mr Torgler said we are making a public demonstration of the fact that older methods of truck transportation have become antiquated and that present conditions have demanded a more modern type of truck

Good roads and good city pavements have now become almost universal and at the same time motor traffic has increased enormously This single is among those that have made a table advance in good road building

It is the intention while the caravan is in Marion to make final arrangements for a local agency for the new line of General Motors trucks The caravan arriving here from Kenton will make Galion the next stop

PAINT COMPANY TELLS HOW TO IMPROVE PORCH

Suggests Attractive Decorative Schemes To Enhance Appearance of Homes

Taking advantage of the extremely warm weather that has forced many families to move out on their porches for comfort the Marion Paint Co is stressing porch paints as the business this month

As an inducement to dress up front porches the company has issued pamphlets describing acceptable methods of making the porch look attractive as well as suggesting various colors of paints that fit into the landscaping and style of homes

Place For Rest

There is no place like the summer porch for pure comfort and delight according to officials of the company

A cozy spot for reading a restful nap for entertainment an idle retreat during sweltering days when exertion is no most pleasant of occupations it seems to touch the center of every pastime

More than any other place in the house the summer porch adapts itself to simple economy in Color is the most important item in creating an atmosphere which bespeaks gaiety and cheer quiet and comfort in one The wall and floor of course will be already determined Though in some cases the floor may be painted a bright hue But as a rule you will have to depend on the furniture for the desired striking note

A motley assemble of old pieces may be made into a new and homogeneous whole by the use of a little paint Wicker furniture or plain or a combination will serve equally well Gay colors are the fashion Old blue jade green vermilion and yellow are popular More effective still is the use of two colors perhaps a rather bright blue trimmed with rose or yellow with burnt orange or green with pale yellow

Chaise Lounge

A couch or a chaise lounge will always be a happy addition to the assemblage Small items such as a smoking stand flower pots and baskets a footstool or two will be attractive as well as a comfort if painted to match the set The card table too if used on the porch should match the rest

The upholstery of the seats or cushions of chairs can make an important contribution to artistic effect And the work may easily be done by the amateur A special tape made for the purpose will be found helpful Sometimes glue is used to hold the material tight in place and then the tape tacked on Cretonnes are the usual covering being both inexpensive and effective A special oil cloth which can be obtained in a number of shades in dull or glossy finish is also attractive and has the added asset of being intensely practical since it is waterproof The annual worry of bringing the cushions in from the storm can be cast aside And with proper selection of color a decorative scheme far removed from the commonplace may be had at small expense Fix up your porch for summer Invest in comfort and beauty

Clyde Coulter or his assistants Leon and Young or Ernest Wittred will be only too glad to give helpful paint suggestions

Will's Capacity Improving

Glory of California Sunshine Dims Before Rosy Glow of Hickory-Smoked Oklahoma Ham Reflected in Sea of Cream Gravy

BY WILL ROGERS

BY WILL ROGERS

WELL, all I know is just what I read in the papers and I have been having plenty of time to read what is in the papers. Well I am back out home, I would have been here Monday but the town of Beverly is building up so fast that it took us two days to find my home.

Yes, I am out of the hospital and [illegible] all over. It's a pity for me going with the nurse we have, I can do well enough, but a man has to do what I would in a while more time than I have now. You can't look at me and tell what I hear, and you know what the doctor said.

Never Again He Hopes

But listen the doctor don't have [illegible] gastronomic [illegible] I am all right, I am going to [illegible] I would have just bogged down to a few bowls of good old greasy [illegible] I would have been well in a week. But I got the next best thing that I wanted and that was some real cornbread. Not this old yellow kind made with eggs but cornbread real old corn dodger, or corn pone made with meal hot water and salt. But I had to have my sister, Mrs. Tom McSpadden from Chelsea, Okla. show 'em how that should be made she even had to send back to get the meal, they don't know what corn meal is out here. I mean corn meal. And she showed 'em how to fix some string beans with some fat meat. Not just boiled in old [illegible] water, but a real piece of ham or the side of a shoat.

Wants Beans, In Bean Soup

Hospitals are all right they are our greatest blessings, they take fine care of you, but when the old appetite comes back you don't want to be mixed up with a kitchen where there is one of those "Dieticians" they know what is good for your health but they don't know what is good for your appetite. They figure out the calories but I like to figure out the odor. If I happen to have some bean soup, I want to be able to locate at pretty prompt intervals, some little objects that look to me like beans. I don't want a bowl of it where the beans have just been driven through there at low tide.

Now, here is California that is supposed to raise everything. We had to send back to Oklahoma to get all the following provisions that really make life worth while. You see California is populated with such a mongrel breed of people from every state and place in the world, they really have no dishes of their own. You give a Los Angelician five more gallons of gasoline than we have nothing to go up it [illegible] We were told by a particular [illegible] Angeles [illegible] to show off it and you get at it and [illegible] Chamber of Commerce [illegible] Oklahoma [illegible] real hickory smoked ham. Can you imagine 'em smoked in eucalyptus logs? There isn't a hickory bush this side of the Verdigris River.

Sent Home For "Surgom"

Why we had to even send home for sorgum, but by golly I am living now. I am eating real biscuits for breakfast. No lightbread or wasp nest for mine. Biscuits and real ham and cream gravy. Oklahoma will show the world how to live yet. I also am living pretty but I like to had to die to get it.

Well that's enough about eating. What we got to take up is how is the world treating us?

Back to the World

Well the world is not so much in [illegible] Like speaking perfect English to em, they don't know what you are talking about. Oklahoma had to furnish our [illegible] Now, here is California that is supposed to raise everything. The purpose of the new organization as tentatively outlined at yesterday's meeting held at Lima Auto Club headquarters, is to advertise the attractions and advantages of route No. 30 and to use other promotion methods for the purpose of inducing tourists to use this route

Although Marion was not represented at the meeting it was indicated today that the Chamber of Commerce Marion Auto Club and other local organization will give the project substantial support

Harding Section

The Harding Highway section included in Federal Route No. 30 starts at Wooster and ends at Delphos near Lima. This part of the route was established several years ago as the result of efforts put forth by business mens organizations in Marion and other cities located on the Harding Highway. There was a strong competition from cities on the Lincoln Highway which passes through Bucyrus but the Harding Highway boosters came out victorious.

Establishing the route over the Harding Highway is regarded as one of the biggest achievements of recent years for business promotion in Marion and other cities located on the thoroughfare

Two States Represented

Ohio and Indiana were the only states represented at yesterday's meeting although practically all of the others sent word assuring support for the organization. The other states are New Jersey, Pennsylvania Illinois Iowa Nebraska Wyoming Idaho Montana and Oregon.

Reports from various cities along federal route No. 30 show that there has already been an appreciable increase in the travel on the route since the new paving campaign was inaugurated.

BACK MISERABLE WITH SHARP PAIN ACROSS KIDNEYS

Suffered Rheumatism Also; This Marion Citizen Tells How Konjola Relieved Years of Health Trouble.

The greatest medicine for kidney trouble and rheumatism that was ever sold in a drug store—that is my opinion of Konjola after my experience with this medicine and I want to indorse it to the public," said Mr. Arthur Linn well known Marion citizen living at Ruth Avenue, this city, while talking just a few days ago with The Konjola Man at the Stump Pharmacy 121 South Main St. Marion who is meeting large crowds in person every day and explaining this surprising new medicine.

MR. ARTHUR LINN

"I had been suffering for years," continued Mr. Linn "without ever finding a medicine that would really help me until recently I got this new Konjola and now the aches and pains are gone and I am feeling fine in every way.

"My kidneys were giving me a lot of trouble and I had to get out of bed at all hours of the night. Sharp pains centered in my back and this made me so miserable I could hardly stand it. I would get dizzy, staggering spells and had to hold on to something to keep from falling. Finally I developed rheumatism, and for the past ten or twelve years I have always had this trouble until Konjola began to do its work on my system.

"I noticed these attacks of rheumatism were coming more often the last two years and I was getting worse each time. I had to give up my work and get to the point where I could barely walk by myself. I found myself a regular shut in and were sore in all the house. I tried first one thing and then another all in vain and I came to believe I would always have this rheumatism.

"Then Konjola was recommended to me. I felt there would be no harm in trying it, but I had no idea it would do the wonderful work it has done. This medicine seemed to clear up the kidney trouble before the first bottle was gone, so I took the second bottle and was feeling a lot better, and I wouldn't think of quitting then so I continued with Konjola and now the aches and pains are gone from my back and people can see me getting around just fine. I don't have to get up at nights on account of my kidneys, and I sleep like a growing child. I feel good all the time, and I will say that such relief is worth the world to me, so I gladly indorse Konjola."

The Konjola Man is at the Stump Pharmacy, (Stump and Sons), 121 South Main Street, Marion, where he is daily meeting the local people and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is now being sold by all of the other good druggists in every nearby town of this whole section.—Adv.

TAX TOTAL OF $27,000 IS RECORD FOR DAY

Payments Made Almost Entirely by Individual Property Owners

Tax payments totalled more than $27,000 in the Marion county treasurers office yesterday establishing one of the highest marks of the present semiannual collection. Treasurer J. F. Messenger stated today.

The record is regarded as unusual due to the fact that the payments were made almost entirely by individual property owners, no remittances from the larger business and industrial concerns being included.

A large representation of Erie Railroad Co employees was included in the days collections. Thursday being pay day. Erie yards. Many Erie employees also paid their tax bills last night when the treasurers office was open from 7 until 9 o'clock to accommodate the Erie men and others who did not find it convenient to call at the office during the day.

Today the treasurer's office was crowded practically from opening to closing time with taxpayers. The office was kept open during the afternoon for receipt of taxes.

Collectors will also be made all of next Saturday including afternoon and the office will be open Monday night July 25, the final day of the collection.

FARMERS ARE EXPECTING TO THRESH NEXT WEEK

Large Part of Wheat Already Cut; Elevators Prepare To Receive Grain

With a large part of the wheat cut, it is expected that Marion County farmers will start threshing next week. Local elevators today report that they expect to receive new wheat by the latter part of next week if weather conditions are such that the threshers can get into the fields. The outlook for a crop slightly above the average, is good, farmers say. The corn crop, however, it is expected will fall below the average unless favorable weather prevails during the next several weeks.

SISSON'S YOUNGSTOWN REPORT IS REVEALED

No Indication Given Relative to Governor's Procedure in Matter

Columbus, July 16. There is evidence with which I deem public that the explosives were in a lighter, Jones ... ...dium when arrested ... ...se more of abuse when released.

The assertion is contained in the report made public here today by Vic Donahey's office submitted to the governor by C. H. Sisson the governor's personal investigator relative to ... ...ous recent investigation of charges that members of the Youngstown police force were responsible for inhumane and brutal treatment during the third degree.

No indication was given at the governor's office relative to what action if any the governor will take in the matter.

In compliance with your request I have investigated charges against the Youngstown police department regarding third degree methods employed by them for the purpose of gaining information, for which purpose radio station WSAI reported to have been used when these men were injured.

Attached to this report are affidavits signed by men who claim they were maltreated at the hands of the police. There are also supporting affidavits signed by reliable citizens of Youngstown.

I secured statements from physicians employed and full workmen of some of the complainants for the purpose of checking accurately just what these men were injured.

Sisson in the report in his report statements signed by every detective on the Youngstown police force in which they deny all charges as stated against them in the complainants affidavits.

Direct communication with Vienna remains impossible today with all telephone and telegraph facilities disrupted by the leaders of the anti government demonstration which is believed to have claimed 200 lives.

Refugees arriving at Pressburg Germany today from the Austrian capital which resembles a battleground reported that at least 50 civilians had been killed in the rioting and upwards of 700 injured.

General Strike On

Indirect information received from Vienna stated the general strike of all workers still was in progress. No trains have moved in or out of Vienna since the outbreak yesterday morning with the exception of an electric interurban line connecting Vienna with Pressburg.

Vienna is entirely cut off from the outside world. Neither Berlin, Munich Prague nor Budapest is able to communicate with the city by telephone or telegraph.

The seriousness of the situation according to the meagre reports available is indicated in a dispatch stating that 20 policemen had been killed in an attempt to quell the riot. It was also reported that a group of Austrian policemen were burned to death when the palace of justice, from which the affairs of state of the Austrian government were administered was sacked by the rioters. The policement were reported to have been locked in the building without ammunition. The structure was reported to be a mass of ruins this morning.

The riots according to reports were in the nature of a Communist rebellion with the overthrow of the existing chancellorship of Herr Seipel as the aim.

Thousands of workers barricaded themselves in front of the opera house, and defied the combined forces of the police and the Austrian army. During the day, following the riot, thousands of Viennese stormed the railroad stations seeking egress from the city. The railroad workers, however, went on strike, and ordered all trains stopped.

The communists are reported to have closed down all newspaper offices save that of the Worker's Journal.

A Source of Consolation

The war department in Washington announces that orders have been placed for over 20 000 of the 30 750 Italian marble headstones which are to be used in the eight European military cemeteries to mark the last resting places of the American soldier dead in the World war

The inscriptions on the headstones marking the graves of the known dead will consist of the full name of each soldier his rank regiment division the state from which he came and the date of his death. Any American decorations awarded him will be indicated by the customary decorations on the front of the marker below the inscription

The inscription upon the headstones marking the graves of the unknown dead will read

Here Rests in Honored Glory
an American Soldier
Known but to God

There has been some criticism of the government for selecting Italian marble for the material from which to cut the headstones which are to be in the shape of crosses gracefully designed. It has been urged that the headstones should be gotten out in this country and shipped to Europe. The plea of the protection of American industry has been heard despite the fact that such protection would exceed in cost the contract price of the markers made in Europe. It was urged that the markers should be made of iron or certain materials other than granite or marble but the war department acting very wisely we believe decided on Italian marble as more enduring than any of the substitutes proposed and preferable owing to the further fact that it would not be necessary to give it almost constant attention to keep it sightly as it should be kept marking as it will the graves of those who gave up all for their country

That the graves of their loved ones though far removed from them are permanently marked in splendidly maintained cemeteries should be a source of consolation to the relatives and friends to the loving ones of our soldier dead who are sleeping their last sleep beyond the broad Atlantic

Martyrdom of Kevin O'Higgins.

It is estimated that 500 000 persons paid their tribute of respect to the late Kevin O Higgins solid lined the streets of Dublin over which moved his funeral cortege and as by tear dimmed eyes men uncovered as the draped gun carriage bearing all that was mortal of the victim of one of the most dastardly political assassinations of all history passed before them

Accounts agree that the funeral of the late vice president of the Irish Free State exceeding council was far more imposing than any previously held in Dublin for many years. At St Andrew's church a solemn requiem mass was chanted by 300 priests the Archbishop of Dublin officiating. The cortege which passed through the chief streets of the city to Glasnevin cemetery three miles away was also impressive

The gun carriage upon which the body was carried one account tells us was preceded by a squadron of cavalry and was followed by the chief mourners Governor General Timothy Healy followed in a motor car while all the members of both houses of parliament marched afoot. In the procession were representatives of every department of the Irish Free State

Twelve large lorries filled with wreaths were in the procession

Next came the representatives of foreign nations including Charles H Hathaway American consul at Dublin who has specially instructed from Washington to represent the United States government

Members of the Irish judiciary all appointed by Mr O Higgins in his capacity as minister of justice followed with members of the Irish bar civil servants representatives of the universities and of public bodies

A large contingent of the army in which Mr O Higgins was once a general during the troubles of several years ago was next in line as were the Civil guards which were established by Mr O Higgins A large number of clergymen and of the general public formed part of the procession

'A notable feature was a large contingent of British former service men wearing medals won in the World war in which Mr O Higgins brother fell There also was a contingent of black shirted Italian fascisti

To the horrors of the cowardly assassination of the vice president thus was added the impressiveness of his obsequies to fit for all their days in the minds of the Irish people the memory of the life sacrificed to the bullets of his assassins In a word his assassins took his life and made of him a martyr

The death of the beloved Michael Collins strengthened the cause of the Irish Free State his martyrdom gave impetus to the cause he advocated and for which he lived and worked and died in the same or even greater proportion that it weakened that of his political foes

And so it will probably be in the case of Kevin O Higgins Unless precedent is worth less as a guide he will prove more powerful in death in his influence for the Free State than he was in life His assassins and those behind them will learn that a political murder is always a two edged sword inflicting punishment inevitably upon those who wield it They sought to weaken the Irish Free State If they live sufficiently long they may realize that they have made strong what they would have destroyed

T P O Connor says that war has proved that you add not to strength but weakness by annexing lands with hostile populations. Wonder if Tay Pay has France in mind or Italy

You never can tell! Mrs Philip Lydig's views on the church and the ministry may be of sufficient interest to some people to justify publication. It's always possible that our esteem for the tastes of the reading public has been a trifle high in the past

The dissolution of the Chicago Symphony orchestra founded thirty six years ago by Theodore Thomas has resulted from the ultimatum of the Chicago Musicians federation that the salaries of the members of the orchestra be raised from $50 to $100 a week as a minimum basis and the federation's rejection of the management's compromise proposal to meet the demand if permitted to cut down the size of the orchestra from ninety to seventy five men the management professing to be unable otherwise to meet the raise At this distance it looks a lot as though the musicians had killed the goose that laid the golden eggs

Poems That Live.

LET US BE SILENT NOW

Let us be silent now
The night is still
The wind has gone to sleep
On yonder hill
The bugle last call
Has died into a dream
The last far gleam
Has faded from the west
A single star
Shines out just where
The silver pillars are
And close about them
Low upon the sky

I wonder why
Men flee from a darkened sky
All day long
They seek the clamor
Of the human throng
Words fill the air
Like swarms of bees
But in mens eyes
If you will look
And turn and look again
You will behold
The scorn of lonely men

Words do not feel
The burden of the day
Let us depart
From words unto the evening
Of the night
O men O brother
How the stars are white
How quiet are the valleys
Beneath our feet
The air how still and pure
The blessed sky how wide
And dark and blue
And silent
Let our hearts be stilled also
And we for some brief space
Thou shalt fall
To feed us all

THE RUSSIAN SOVIET: THE "CAIN" AMONG NATIONS.

Hints on Vericose Veins.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

Here's a letter from a woman out in Ohio who wants to know about varicose veins or bunches as she puts it

In a vital health the walls of the blood vessels are elastic For some reason there may be an increased quantity of blood forced through a given vessel The walls spread as if they were made of rubber and when the surplus of blood disappears the vessel resumes its normal size

Under certain conditions of health the blood vessels lose this elastic quality and remain unduly dilated

In general it may be said we have two sets of blood vessels One set we call arteries They carry the blood from the heart to every part of the body

The other set is called the veins They carry the blood from the remote parts of the body back to the heart

When the wall of an artery loses its elasticity and the vessel dilates the trouble is called aneurism When the walls of the veins lose their elasticity and the veins dilate, the trouble is known as varicose veins

The veins of the legs are more likely to be involved in this way than are other veins Gravity has much to do with this fact Since we are erect much of the time it is necessary for the veins to lift the blood from the feet through the body to the heart If the walls of the veins lose their elasticity you can see that the most dependent vessels would be the first to show the trouble

As a matter of fact here and there in the skin may be perceived many times They look as if the blood had made with a blue pencil These are usually unobjectionable A more serious condition is present when the veins of the legs between the knees and ankles become swollen They stand out prominently swollen twisted and knotted They are so conspicuous that it seems a wonder they do not break

All persons who have occupations requiring for long work are likely to have varicose veins as they grow older in years Soldiers are very frequently affected this way Underwear shirt and hard working persons who are much on their feet are likely to be affected Barbers waitresses policemen—any body having an occupation necessitating standing and walking is likely to be affected

Varicose veins are not nearly so dangerous as they appear They may mar the appearance of the skin but unless they are excessively large they are of no particular consequence

It is an unfortunate fact however that if left to themselves the veins show increase in size In time the skin overlying the veins becomes inflamed Not infrequently the inflammation of the skin takes the form of eczema There may be an open sore with the formation of an obstinate ulcer Varicose ulcers are always slow to heal and are inclined to spread

Since the trouble is due to some extent to gravity elevation of the part may be helpful The simplest way of dealing with it is to wear a bandage or an elastic stocking This supports the tissues Of course it is not corrective but it acts as a support and will help a lot

It is important to build up the health in every way possible With better health will come strength and blood vessels

Editorial Comment.

THE QUAKE IN PALESTINE

While the later reports from Palestine indicate that the casualties from the earthquake which occurred in that region Monday are less than at first reported it is certain that a grievous damage has been done The total number of dead is undetermined Estimates range from 300 to 1 000 with 700 as the more probable figure The difficulty of counting the cost of the disaster is serious due to the lack of communications Rescue work is being organized by the British authorities and hopes are before the close of the week the whole tale will have been told

The quake appears to have been the severest felt there in a long period The region has for centuries been subjected to seismic disturbances In ancient times terrible damage was done by shocks since long engulfed At Antioch there were no less than fifty when a period of two centuries most of them severe Archeologists excavating for the ruins of old civilizations are continually finding evidences of shocks that destroyed entire communities

This present quake though centered about 300 miles distant was felt in Egypt where some damage was done notably at the temple of Karnak the walls of which were cracked in several places It is stated that if the center had been within 150 miles many some of the most cherished monuments of ancient Egypt would have been destroyed and anxiety is now felt lest the Palestine complex may be merely the forerunner of other seismic changes which following a suspected fault in the earth's crust toward the southwest may give Egypt one of the severest shocks in history with incomparable damage to its treasures

Tabulated sufferings are severe and call for relief The blow is especially heavy because the Zionist colonies there are just developing to the point of promising success in this important experiment It remains to be seen how far the work has been set back by this visitation of nature but without doubt if material aid is needed to re establish the communities that have been set up since the war now injured by the quake it will be forthcoming —Washington Star

FORTUNE FROM MUSIC

During the five years ending with 1919 Madame Alma Gluck operatic and concert soprano had a professional income of $745 000 She told the story in a hearing of an appeal from the income tax ruling heard in court recently in New York Of that income $130 000 was from royalties on phonograph records while $345 000 was from her engagements in concerts and opera

Surely the American public can not be called unappreciative of the charm of music when it spends such large sums to hear one star of opera and concert Of course Madame Gluck is a rare star in both fields popular during her career in opera and equally popular on the concert stage The enormous sum from the phonograph record royalties may surprise most people even those who know of the many charms of her glorious voice and her exquisite art But with all her ability she must be considered as one having been handsomely rewarded by her admirers

Only a few months ago courts in New York heard of the income of more than a million dollars in royalties from the Caruso records since the death of that great singer In one case the royalties continued to pour in after death while in the other the courts continued after public appearances become more rare In each case the royalties bid fair to run to handsome figures and continue indefinitely Their will always be those who will enjoy the golden notes of Caruso and the wonderful voice of Gluck

The figures make plain how greatly the phonograph has enlarged the world of good music for the public and how eager the people are to enjoy it when it can be brought to them And they show also that some musicians have wealth handed to them literally poured into their laps once they have established themselves as competent artists And yet the public hears not infrequently of former stars who are in financial distress What wasters they must have been —Ohio State Journal

AN INCREDIBLE VERDICT

The acquittal of the youth Ratkowski in Judge Miller's court Tuesday suggests that an investigation might be advisable The failure of justice was so flagrant that it is difficult to account for it except on the theory of corruption We realize the low state of intelligence many of our jurors represent in this instance the proof of complicity in the brutal killing of a father of five children looking for employment in the vicinity of the pay roll robbery in which the defendant was concerned was so clear that Judge Miller rebuked the jury for its verdict Both the fact and the law seem to be clear but the jury either refused to see the one or other the other

If there was no sinister influence upon the jury the case emphasizes the great need for a system of jury service which will weed out the mental and moral incompetence which such a verdict represents There are many weaknesses in our administration of criminal justice but certainly the quality of some of our jurors points one of the most serious ways of its shortcomings —Chicago Tribune

New York Day by Day.

BY O O McINTYRE.

New York July 15—In many ways Broadway is about the most naive spot in the world Beneath a calloused world weary exterior a child like simplicity and curiosity is found elsewhere A handsome young man demonstrating a patented collar button in a department store window will tie traffic in a knot

Important looking gentlemen are often seen neglecting affairs to watch youngsters who have baited strings fish for lost coins in the slits of sidewalk gratings A dog fight will make a corner impassable

Broadway will line along curbs in a driving rain and rush for hours to see a dog parade that wouldn't budge the rocker on a Main street porch Fake auctions are held from noon until midnight near in and out

The bare announcement that a movie star will appear in person at a cinema palace demands the presence of police reserves And at almost every stage door nightly there is a semi circle of the curious for a few seconds glimpse of the stars

Chickens revolving slowly on spits in cafeteria windows are continuous magnets to a sidewalk crowd as are the indefatigable hammer thumpers in the cubicle music and song shops The countryman is a minor part of the ground These are city folks

The country man is conscious of his rawness and does not wish to display it An advertising calliope tooting down Broadway will empty all the office windows and as for a brass band—well business simply comes to a full stop

Few catch penny shows fail to click in the Broadway district from the dear old fashioned self photographing shop A good Lunch Room which would have a long run there The streak of naivete in the alloy of sophistication is doubtless why it is one of the most interesting of all thoroughfares

Broadway too is a paradise for pitchmen—the slick curb speciality salesmen—who can reap a tidy fortune from day to day if unmolested Their difficulty of course is that the street is too well policed Before they are going good they are chased away A pitchman with a clever shill has been known to pick up as high as five dollars in profits in a half hour selling potato peelers a few steps from Forty Second street And Colonel Jack Cordell now lives in peace and comparative plenty on a southwest Missouri farm from the earnings of selling Broadway Cat eye diamonds —as big as your eyes boys—a dime ten cents

Less than two years ago a vacant store in stone cast from Times square was the pitch of a medicine man who packed them into the lectures by simply putting a box of live snakes in his window He sold snake oil liniment, good for man or beast by the gallon

City bred men continue to squawk lately about what they call the myth of country boys having had a corner on boyish fun They may be right but unless they have dissolved fishing worms into lumber oil to become acrobats or tried to catch humming birds in a cage they do not know real fun

Mr Pierson declares that our postal rates are unfair and unreasonable He says

Experience has definitely demonstrated that the present scale of postal rates is not on a reasonable basis and is resulting in decided arbitrary harm to various users of the mails and, therefore, to the public in general

There has been a more or less generally accepted idea that receipts from the postal service should fully cover all costs of that service This is contrary to accepted business principles and overlooks the fact that efficiency and adequacy of the service should be the first consideration

It also overlooks the fact that congress in its wisdom has seen fit to use the postal service for carrying out government policies by the granting and extending of free or less than cost services

'These policy services cost the post office department considerably more than the amount of the reported deficit An analysis of the data made by the chamber's postal service committee reveals convincing reasons why the reported deficits should not be regarded as an argument for retaining the present unfair and uneconomic rates on commercial mail'

Religion and Vacations

A SERMONETTE
BY REV. A. F. UPHOFF
Pastor Prospect Street M. E. Church

MANY people apparently believe that when summer arrives religious activities should cease. We feel this is one in part to misconception of religion. If religion is a coat to be put on or off at the will of the tacksmite who uses it as he does his raincoat it is logically correct. But true religion is not a coat; it is a character and character never takes a vacation. Religion has been defined as "the life of God in the soul of man." It is a vital relationship between man and God. It writes its story in his daily conduct; it moulds his soul by the habits which it fosters and destiny is its final decision from which there is no appeal. You may just as properly discontinue your daily visits to the dining room as to cease to nourish your religious life. Food for the body is no more important than food for the soul. Jesus said: "Work not for the food which perisheth but for the food which abideth unto eternal life."

The most important fact about a man is his attitudes, motives, hopes and ideals all of which are determined by his relation to God. If he loves God and his neighbor if his life is dedicated to Jesus Christ if he acknowledges the obligation to serve and cherishes the hope eternal in his heart his faith will shine with a radiance wherever he goes. Vacation periods are necessary for rest and recuperation but what shall it profit a man if he gains physical vigor while he loses his sense of spiritual responsibility. True disciples will take their religion with them on their vacation and bring it back with them when they return.

Join the Six Minutes Summer Club. Those who belong to it mark off at least six minutes at the very beginning of the day and give the first part to reading the Scriptures, the second to prayer and the third to listening to God. Become a good listener to the Almighty; put in the open or shut in or wherever you are. The majority of us are to talk to God more than we are to hear what He is saying to us.

Central Christian Church Is More Than 25 Years Old

Congregation Organized In Marion in 1902; Has Had Nine Pastors

The Central Christian church was organized during the month of February 1902 on that date a little band of 27 faithful and consecrated persons gathered together under the leadership of Rev. Steward of Findlay and an organization was effected and a charter obtained.

The first place of meeting was in a frame dwelling house just south of the Star building on N. Main st. After the organization of the church it enjoyed considerable growth for a time in the Mac Inc. building at the corner of S. Main and Church sts. Later the upstairs of the structure now occupied by the J. C. Penny store was rented for a period of two years while permanent quarters were being arranged for.

Purchase Site

On Aug. 1 1901 the present site at 258 W. Church st. was purchased from the Elizabeth McMahon estate. Work was begun on the erection of the present church structure in June of the next year. The building was formally dedicated in April 1903 and services were held in the Sunday School auditorium while the main part of the building was being completed. The beautiful structure was finished and ready for occupancy on Oct. 11 1903.

The following pastors have led the congregation in its labors and growth through the 25 years of its history: Rev. W. L. Stem, Rev. Franklin Mc[illegible], Rev. O. P. Maple, Rev. H. Platt, Rev. C. E. Miller, Rev. C. A. Tuttle, Rev. M. J. Buckles, Rev. A. L. Shaw and Rev. G. E. Groves.

Constant Growth

From its humble beginning a quarter of a century ago this congregation has made a constant and substantial growth until it has taken its place among the leading religious forces of the city. Starting with 27 members it has moved forward until its membership is well above 500.

During the 2 years pastorate of the present minister Rev. G. E. Groves about 200 have been added to the church membership nearly $2,500 has been raised for local improvement a "Junior Church" of 70 members organized and previous Bible School records have been broken.

WOULDN'T it be grand to be the guest of a polar bear in his summer home on some nice thick iceberg for the last few days and taking your meals in an airplane some where between Greenland and the North Pole. I really think then and only then one might keep cool. The cry for just ten minutes of last winter's breezes is raised as one sorts from the refreshment soaked rounds of the greenery and are begins to wonder that if they can muster up enough courage to wonder why oh why they ever cast aspersions on the real human only a few months ago. Most of us look like we feel animated carcasses ready to bubble over at any moment and we seem to keep on moving just because it takes too much effort to stop. I have seen more mail unclaimed on the floor of mail and more men alike and more males sent collars in the last week than could be found in a days journey of a year of ordinary temperature. In fact in a certain office in the city the attire of afternoon set would remind one of the days when the head of the household would deign to wear a Sunday shirt but scorned the accessories namely a collar and tie. And no apologies to the members of the fairer sex either. I have only seen one person who really looked cool, and like she really intended to stay that way and that was a blonde at breakfast the other morning. She was limpidly cool in a frock which made her look like an animated drink of mint julep and here was the complexion that seemed to stay put when the rest of us were breaking out in a rash of perspiration whenever we thought of the weather.

IT was suggested to me a short time ago that an old time show would be a good thing to offer for an evening's entertainment and I even was told where to get a new book with all the details for garnering props and doing the tricks. Now I think every one at some stage of the game of life has taken part in an impromptu show where the admission was pins or a few pennies and who ever gets too chummy with Father Time that they won't take another fling at being an actor to say nothing of the fun it affords the youngsters. This book tells how to make mount and handle the figures of a marionette show, prepare shows and tricks for the home given magician, a chapter on the producing of living pictures and such curiosities as giants and dwarfs. A chapter on artificial fireworks is followed by one on that ancient wonder, the talking head and how careful directions for making a Punch and Judy show, a drawing room circus.

HAVE you noticed those festive awnings which bedeck a number of the automobiles one meets on the highways and byways now? They are I understand a great comfort to the motorist with a long journey in view and I think the gay colors go hand in hand with the spirit of the vacationing multitude. It won't be long now until some one finds a way to arrange a connection for the electric fan and a refrigerator for the picnic lunch and beverages and by the shades of Omar life will be one grand sweet song.

If You Like The Out-of-Doors You'll Love Bay View!
BAY VIEW is a beautiful, high and dry, partially wooded peninsula, jutting out about a half mile into the quiet waters of Sandusky Bay. It is located on State Route 2, just 6 miles west of Sandusky, and may be approached by smoothly paved roads from east, west or south.
The waters abound with fish and water fowl. Swimming and boating do not involve the danger found in the open lake. Tennis, picnicing and playgrounds for the kiddies make it pleasant for those who prefer the land.
Bay View No. 1 is in its third year. Most of the lots are sold. Many beautiful cottages—owned by people you would welcome as neighbors—have been built and more are going up. Bay View is quiet and conservative. All lots 50 ft. wide and very reasonable.
The new highway bridge across Sandusky Bay (starting at the point of Bay View Peninsula) has opened remarkable investment opportunities.
If you are looking for a summer home, come to Bay View. And come SOON for it's almost gone!

Slowly the little Spanish force was driven back and shattered. Men now were fighting hand to hand a series of individual duels that ended only when one or the other combatant died. Quarter was neither given nor asked. It would be only a matter of minutes until the end [illegible]—Larry closed his eyes in horror at the thought.

Faced with the victory that was now within their grip, their earlier fears forgotten, the Berbers were madmen who spurred on by religious fervor forgot every tactic of even the tribal system of fighting. Their ranks spilled, broke and surged like crimson topped waves out of bed around and over the Spaniards and their Partisan allies. Soon it would all be over.

One of the airplanes dropped low its machine gun strumming a literal rain of bullets downward into the Berbers. But it was of no avail.

Suddenly it seemed that the rim of the wall across from Larry had sprung into a pulsing swift moving life. At the very edge of the gentle slope men appeared. At first Larry rubbed his eyes fearing he had watched the battle so long that he was still [illegible] the moving forms, even though his orbs had been raised to the rim of that gentle slope across from him.

But no! Men were appearing now by scores, hundreds, six thousands—and they were pouring down the hill silently grimly rifles and swords ready led by a figure in a garish many colored burnouse, a man who ran so swiftly that the curtains of his turban stood straight out behind him.

CHAPTER FIFTY SIX

The bag pipes skirled higher the [illegible] of the [illegible] became shriller and the cavalry quickened its pace the riders dropping lances to a [illegible] and shifting sabers until they were in [illegible] at their wrists. Faster and faster came the [illegible] of the horses hoofs faster and faster moved their twinkling legs there was a mighty roaring about the riders clopped their heels against the sides of their stallions and like living streaks they shot forward on the charge, dropping the foot soldiers behind much as an ocean greyhound might have dropped behind a canoe it had overtaken and passed.

Unable to maintain his quiet posture longer Larry rose and with Henna clinging to his hand, raced forward to be nearer the scene of the actual battle. He heard the rifles of the Berbers sounding, caught the hoarse shouts of the cavalrymen then through all the turmoil sounding high above other noises of the strife he caught a quick rattling staccato which sounded for all the world like an empty farm wagon rattling staccato which sounded for all the world like an empty farm wagon rattling across a rough and frozen country dirt road.

It was the machine guns. He knew they had gone into action at last. Lit erally they were blasting a hail of death into the oncoming ranks of the cavalry, but the latter a full seven hundred in number, were too many to be stopped suddenly by the painfully few machine guns the Spaniards could muster there.

By this time Larry and Henna had reached a fresh point of vantage and now when they looked down the battle was raging almost directly beneath them. Silently they threw themselves on their stomachs and let their faces peer over the edge of what was at this point almost a straight up and down cliff. Larry saw a cloud rise among the ranks of the cavalry, then saw an airplane, which had swooped low sputtering upward out of range of the Berber bullets that were being poured at it.

The force of the shock that ensued when the rushing cavalry met the bayonets of the Spaniards made a sound not unlike to that of a pair of mountains might make were they to collide, then the sound blended into an inferno that no man could describe. Nothing was emphasized, yet nothing was deadened or hidden. It was as though Satan and his chief lieutenants had suddenly been called upon to withstand an attack from their slaves to Hades. Larry could think of no more fitting simile.

A bayonet charge! Most thrilling of all maneuvers of warfare!

Down the rank the Partisans came, their ranks holding firm and closing swiftly as Berber bullets cut holes in them. At the same time another roaring blast sounded among the Moors and another charge of high explosive from one of the airplanes claimed its human toll.

The opposing forces met with a shock that seemed literally to shake the ground. Berber rifles, swords and lances met Partisan bayonets and bullets in the hands of the Submissive Tribesmen. Like a giant snake in its death struggles the line wavered and slithered and shifted, seemed to coil, unwind and coil again. Suddenly, furor loomed for the Partisans. From the sides of the road came the reformed Berber cavalry and these charged directly into the unprotected flanks of the attackers.

Disconcerted the latter broke under the unexpected assault and faltered. Their youthful leader dropped, then without any rare native efforts to command them, the Partisans broke in wild panic and fled running pell mell, without order of any kind back toward the thin Spanish lines.

Behind them came the victorious Berber cavalry with the men of the rifle, the pistol, the saber and the lance following closely. As the Partisans burst among their comrades a confusion indescribable ensued. Before either Partisans or Spaniards could reform their lines to meet the fresh attack, the Moors were upon them.

Larry groaned in bitterness of spirit, for without a doubt the Spanish cause was lost. Their ranks scattering and disrupted by the actions of the Partisans, unable to reform and re-man their machine guns, the bloodied handful of sunny Spain was doomed and Larry knowing the fanaticism that urged these Berbers onward, shuddered to think of the carnage that would follow, not only here in the Pass, but later, when the victorious horde swept out of the hills on Duk el-Abid, then on Ah Dekkar, even, mayhap, to the coast itself!

For with these valiant Spaniards dead, the way to all these places would as a consequence be unguarded. There would be nothing left to hinder the sweep of the fanatical hordes across the Plains where they would play and loot at will, until even the Rif [illegible] would be reached. It would not civilization in this forbonding land back for countless years?

Slowly the little Spanish force was driven back and shattered. Men now were fighting hand to hand a series of individual duels that ended only when one or the other combatant died. Quarter was neither given nor asked. It would be only a matter of minutes until the end then—Larry closed his eyes in horror at the thought.
